

5.3. International mobility of doctoral students

The objective of the programme is to award grants to permit outstanding doctoral students of the ceiA3 to engage in three- to six-month stays in internationally renowned research groups in the agrifood field.

The call has been drafted and approved for publication on 30 April following the transfer of funds granted for the project. The draft of the call has been distributed among potential candidates to inform them of the action. €120,000 have been allocated for this action.